Matthew Kim was born in Worcester, Massachusetts and grew up in West Boylston Massachusetts, and completed his undergraduate degree from the University of New Hampshire with a double major in Music Education and Classics.

Matthew has performed in various recitals at the University of New Hampshire. An accomplished clarinetist, Mr. Kim has performed full length clarinet recitals. In 2007, Matthew played alto saxophone with the National Wind Ensemble at Carnegie Hall, under the direction of H. Robert Reynolds. He has performed with the Worcester County Light Opera Company, the Holy Cross Graduation Band, the Fantasy Big Band located in Hopedale, and has played flute at the After Hours Arts Program in Lynn MA.

Mr. Kim had a great opportunity to work with the late Mr. Dennis Wrenn as a student teacher at Algonquin Regional High School, working with all ensembles, including the music theory classes. Mr. Kim also taught master classes, beginning jazz improv, and served as a counselor/teacher for middle school and high school students at UNH's Summer Youth Music School. He had the great opportunity to also teach after school private lessons and work at various public schools in Franklin, Hudson, Framingham, Southbridge and various locations near the Worcester area. He has obtained a teacher's license and is certified as a music educator by the Department of Education in the state of Massachusetts

Mr. Kim has completed his master's degree in saxophone at the Longy School of Music. Matthew has had the pleasure to study with various teachers, including: Dave Seiler, Jared Sims, Dr. Elizabeth Gunlogson, Stephanie Ratte, and Kenneth Radnofsky. Mr. Kim performed a graduate saxophone recital in the spring of 2011.

Jane Bailey

Clarinet & Saxophone Instructor

Jane Bailey started playing clarinet in the Concord Mass Schools in fourth grade and instantly loved it! She participated in everything available during her school career-District and All State Bands, Greater Boston Youth Symphony, New England Conservatory Youth Orchestra, New England Music Camp, in addition to clarinet lessons with Manuel Valerio of the Boston Symphony.

Upon High School graduation, she attended Eastman School of Music and received her Bachelor of Music Education degree from Hartt College of Music. She plays in the Concord Orchestra and Hudson's Symphony Pro Musica, in addition to playing in pit orchestras for musical shows. She has taught classroom and instrumental music and private clarinet lessons in different locations, including Hudson for several years. It is really exciting for her to see young students starting to learn an instrument that might possibly give them a lifetime of pleasure!

Ashley Steinhaus

Saxophone Instructor

Ashley Steinhaus currently teaches elementary general music at the Mulready School in Hudson, MA. Ashley received a Bachelor of Music Education in 2015 from Anna Maria College, Summa Cum Laude. As a primary saxophonist, she has performed with jazz combos, wind ensembles, marching bands and saxophone quartets in Worcester and Middlesex County. Ashley has had the privilege of studying aspects of jazz, modern, classical and marching techniques from Steve Skop, Kevin Grudecki, Matthew Lefebvre, and Blair Bettencourt.
