

Jane Bailey

Clarinet Instructor

Jane Bailey started playing clarinet in the Concord Mass Schools in fourth grade and instantly loved it! She participated in everything available during her school career-District and All State Bands, Greater Boston Youth Symphony, New England Conservatory Youth Orchestra, New England Music Camp, in addition to clarinet lessons with Manuel Valerio of the Boston Symphony.

Upon High School graduation, she attended Eastman School of Music and received her Bachelor of Music Education degree from Hartt College of Music. She plays in the Concord Orchestra and Hudson's Symphony Pro Musica, in addition to playing in pit orchestras for musical shows. She has taught classroom and instrumental music and private clarinet lessons in different locations, including Hudson for several years. It is really exciting for her to see young students starting to learn an instrument that might possibly give them a lifetime of pleasure!
